PINNACLE

The Pinnacle

The Pinnacle is the most beautiful building on the Coahoma Community College campus. This facility was completed in the Spring of 1993, and the name was submitted by Mrs. Mildred Yvonne Joiner, an alumnus. The Spring 1993 commencement exercise was the first activity held in the Pinnacle.

The Pinnacle has been the venue for high school commencement exercises, basketball games, stage productions, concerts, assembly programs and coronation activities.

The edifice is a source of pride for Coahoma Community College and its service area.

Coahoma, Coahoma

Words and Music by J. Orville Mosley
April 23, 1954

Coahoma, Coahoma, we kneel before thine alter,
In Reverence, in homage, in consecration strong;
    Upon the earth where'er we tread
    We never will thy name degrade.
We challenge wrong with never any dread.
    We shall not be afraid.

Coahoma, Coahoma, our aim is not to falter,
But to be brave in the good life to which we all belong.

Coahoma, Coahoma, as though the sun were rising.
Thy percepts, thy guidance, will ever be our star;
    As in the world we take our place
    Our memories of the remain,
We'll do our best to win the bitter race
    And honor to retain.
Coahoma, Coahoma, thy sons are now arising
    To the great call men of courage
    We shed thy light afar

Coahoma, Coahoma, Our noble Alma Mater
We laud thee, we hail thee, with never ending praise;
    The fortune of our future lives
    We'll cast a ray of light on thee.
The shades of night will swiftly disappear
    With thoughts of thee so near.
Coahoma, Coahoma, our beacon of tomorrow
    We will always shout thy glory
    Our Alma Mater, dear.

With the stress of classes, organizations, and jobs, students need to escape all their anxiety. So, they choose to gather in the Square.

While some were only able to escape for a few moments, it was well worth it anyway. Many students use the Square for a study break.

So, whenever you need help, just look around for a helpful Tiger.

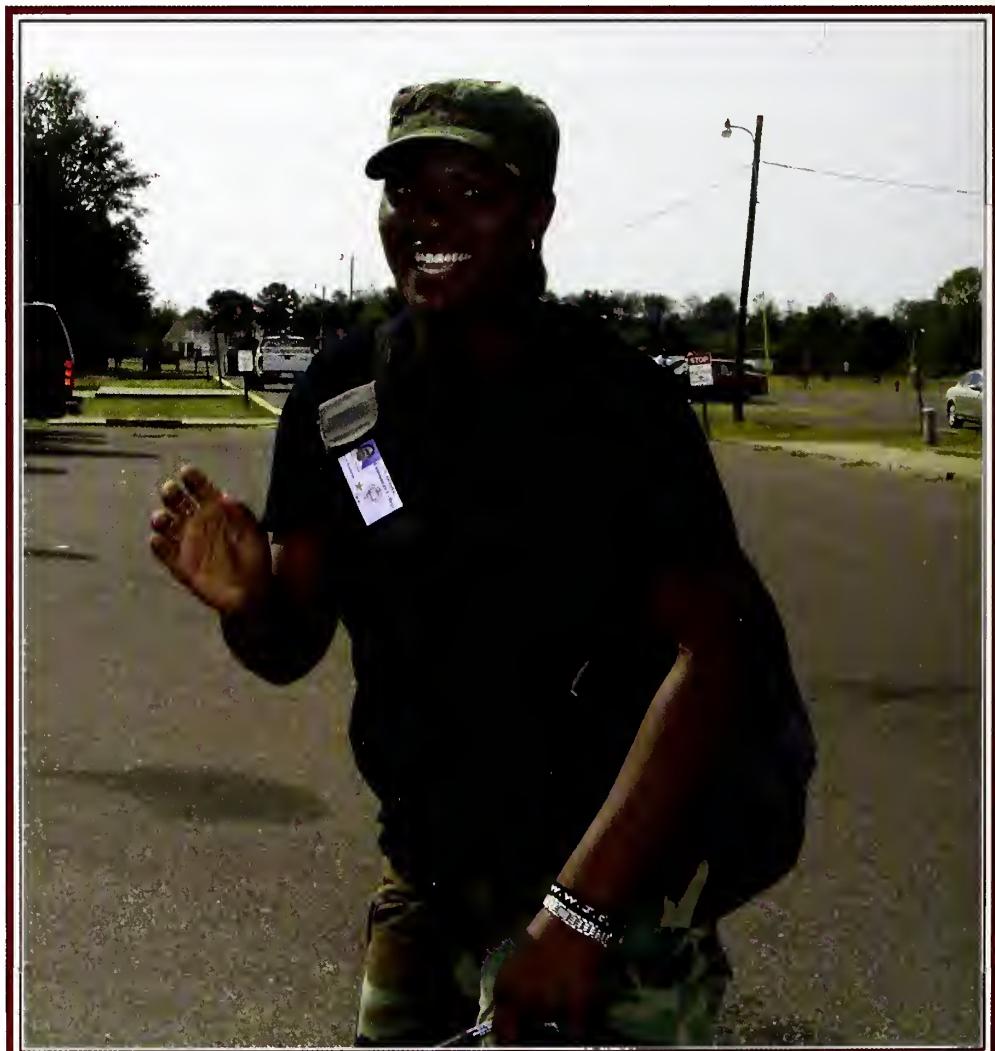

Latoya Wallace is a Sophomore at CCC where she shows her true spirit as a drum major strutting her stuff.

Christie Henderson is a star basketball player from Yazoo, MS. Playing forward position is a breeze to her, but someone has to shine.

"Education is the passport for the future," said Dr. Cedric Ellis, principal of Oakhurst Junior High. The Rev. G. Lawson, pastor of Real Faith Christian Church, related his own life experiences with "There Is a Story Before the Glory."

Greg Hoskins, Clarksdale Police Department assistant chief, told students, "There is a lot going on out there, brothers; don't be fooled or misled." Henry Ware, who transformed Southaven Pontiac, Buick, GMC Inc. from last to the number one Pontiac dealership in Mississippi, credits education as his "vehicle for opportunity."

State Sen. Robert Jackson described his beginnings as the son of sharecroppers in Vancie to political office in the state Legislature. "We're all in this together," he said.

Coordinating the events was Carl Pitts with music by James McCloud, band director; vocalist Brian Dorsey, and the CCC Gospel Choir. Others participating in the program were Edwin Smith with the invocation; greetings by Aljer Williams, a poem by Doyle Harrington; and introduction of the speaker by Adrian Johnson.

Television's dynamic Judge Greg Mathis delivers a forceful address at Coahoma Community College Tuesday.

Standing ovations, cheers, and guffaws from an audience of 2,000 greeted television's Judge Greg Mathis Tuesday as he challenged young people to strengthen their lives by overcoming obstacles and society's diet of sex and violence.

"You better not give up," he said. "If they close the door of opportunity on you, kick it down."

Speaking at Coahoma Community College, Mathis, a former high school dropout who later became a respected jurist, prescribed tough love for would-be thugs babied by parents and suckered by enemies wanting to take their money.

After experiencing life on both sides of the bench, he says, tough love was key to turning around his own lawless life.

The star of today's popular courtroom drama produced by Warner Brothers, said "When police called to tell my mother I was in jail, she answered, 'Keep him there till he rots.'"

"Tough love allowed me to learn I had to pay consequences. I knew no one was going to rescue me."

Mathis told the audience, "Don't come in here today fronting like a thug."

"Thugs don't go to college; they sell drugs; I was a real thug on the streets of Detroit, arrested five times and kicked out of school four times until I heard Jessie Jackson speak about kids 'locked in the ghetto but the ghetto not being locked in us,'" he continued.

Although Mathis praised African-American history in the Mississippi Delta and the sacrifices that created opportunities, he said, "we baby them (young people) today when we need to give them discipline."

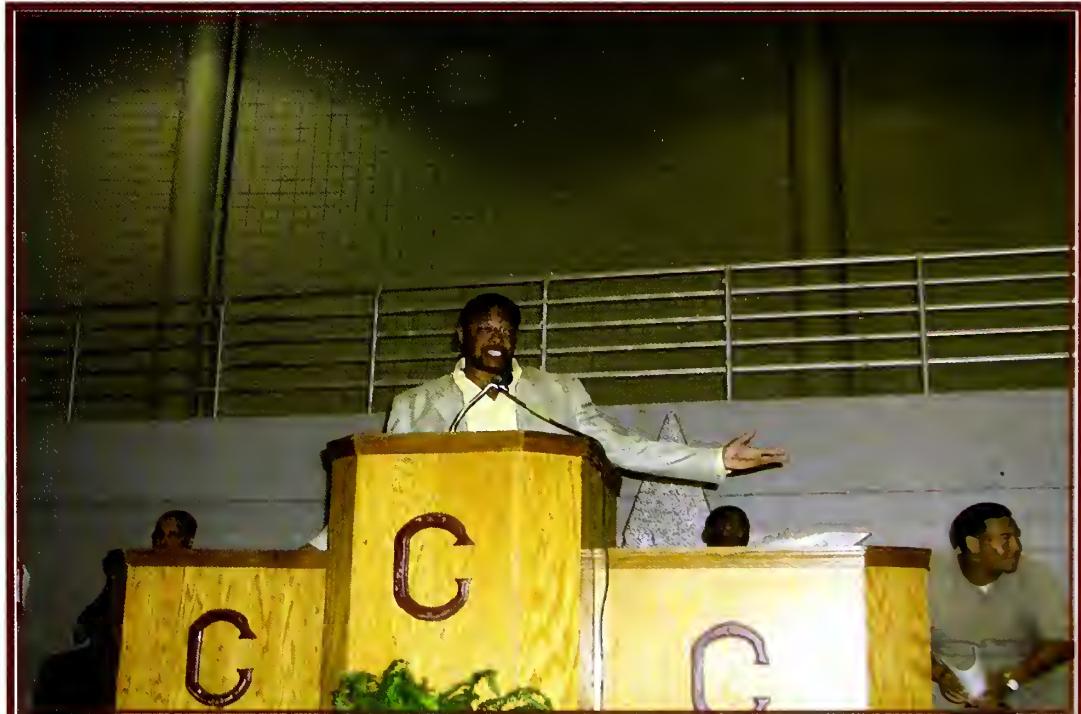

"Ninety percent of my (childhood) friends are dead, in jail, or on dope," he said. "Eighty percent of those in prison have no G.E.D. or high school diplomas."

Mathis criticized government budget cuts to education rather than prison maintenance, self-defeating cultures and lifestyles of guns and drugs that encourage young people to follow lives of criminals. "Enemies want to make money on you," he said. "It's a sucker move; don't fall into this trap," he said. He defined enemies as "anybody standing in the way of your success."

"Your enemies have got you walking around disrespecting yourselves with your pants hanging down and no shoe laces," he said. "That's prison fashion, cause you can't wear a belt in jail; you better be careful."

Commenting on hip hop culture and some of its idols, Mathis said, "I've gotta tell you there's nothing hip or hop about being a thug, living in poverty, going to prison, having a baby before you're ready or having AIDS."

Mathis urged students to overcome obstacles and be strengthened by the struggle despite a diet of sex and violence that expects young people not to be affected by it. By: Panny Mayfield, PR

"Doing in a BIG Way," says Marcus Phillips.

During Homecoming week, designing your own t-shirt was a good way to remember your first homecoming at the wonderful Coahoma Community College.

Do you see how long it takes just to get an T-Shirt?
But it's worth it if I'm going to be getting it from C.C.C.

Concentrating isn't hard at all!

Major Decision

"What do you want to be when you grow up?" This is a familiar question that everyone has been asked. Whether the answer was a doctor, lawyer, or a police officer, anything was possible. As students begin college the question remains the same, just phrased differently. "What is your major?" is now the most often-asked question.

The process of choosing a major is a difficult task for any freshman or sophomore. One of the hardest decisions a student has to make is where he or she would like to end up after college. There are many students who struggle with this problem.

There are several factors involved when considering a major: salary, a person's interests, and the extra years associated with obtaining that particular degree.

Here are a few tips to help with this major decision.

1. Identify weaknesses, both academic and personal.
2. Be realistic!
3. Know your personality type.

There are other factors that can influence a student's decision when choosing a major, such as: family, friends, backgrounds and lifestyles. For those who are unsure of a major, several resources are available to help them make the right decision. Whether it's researching a career, choosing or changing a major, career choices are out there for every interest and personality. Pick the one that's right for you!!!

They are best known for walking backwards across the CCC campus. Ambassadors are in charge of leading the many campus tours that are given on campus.

This group of students represented the ideas and spirit that it takes to be an Ambassador to nearly 2000 students, in addition to their parents. The group also gave tours to guests of the president and faculty members from other schools.

"It's an organization where you never know what's coming. One day you could be talking with the president of another college and the next day have a group of middle or high school students on a field trip," said Candace Barnes, Miss CCC, a sophomore major from Clarksdale.

"College Day is unique, because it is not just you and your parents on campus, it's many parents and students," said William Bounds. "The college opens itself up. It makes students feel more comfortable by letting them know that they aren't the only ones out there looking."

Two key functions the group supported were the Tennessee Williams Festival held on CCC's campus and the Mentor/Mentee Program held at Sherard Elementary School.

SGA

Benard Steven Chandler, President Justin Montgomery, Vice-President
LaTarchia Young, Treasurer

The key to making a difference is getting involved. The members of this year's SGA are all new expect one.

The Student Government Association is open to all students, and the officers are elected during the fall election.

Students work closely with the Dean of Student Affairs to learn the procedures of the SGA. They learn the law and how to abide by it.

"By being a part of SGA, students get a much better idea of how student government really works," said Bridney Skipper.

The SGA assisted with community service, campus projects and spirit activities. They also helped host motivational speaker Ms. Denise Stokes.

"SGA provides a special way of establishing important contacts within the college and meeting new friends," said Bridney Skipper.

"The biggest discussion in SGA is that we hear the students complain about not having something to do. When we have events, they don't take advantage of them," said Justin Montgomery. One such occasion was the comedy show hosted by John Paul, where students could interact with the comedian. Montgomery said he did not see as many students as he would have liked.

The Clubs of the English Department started the 2004-2005 year with the election of the following officers: President LaTarchia Young; Secretary Tia Williams; and Treasurer Angeline Brown. The President brought dynamic leadership to the club in a vivid vision of what the clubs' role on campus should be.

Thus the Clubs have sponsored several projects during the school year to fulfill that vision. One of our goals is to assist in the academic development of future college students and future leaders. Because of our commitment to education, we have adopted the third grade classes at Jonestown Elementary School. On Monday, October 4, 2004, between 11:00 and 1:00 P.M., we visited the school where we read to three third grade classes. Afterwards, we presented each student with a reward of candy, a book, or a toy. We also sponsored several fundraisers during the week of homecoming. We assisted in designing and building a float for the homecoming parade. In addition, the clubs attended a matinee featuring Maya Angelou on December 5 at Delta State University.

Our projects for the spring semester include a black history program, a trip to Atlanta or Orlando in March, Georgia Lewis Day activities in April, and the publication of Free Spirits, a collection of students' writings.

Social Science Club

B.F. Reid Social Science Club

The former Social Science Club changed its name to the B.F. Reid Social Science Club during the 2003 School year to honor the former chairperson of the Social Science Department who served as the sponsor of this club for thirty years.

The goal of the B.F. Reid club is to be of service to the communities that encompass the District of Coahoma Community College. This year the B.F. Reid Social Club provided a Thanksgiving dinner to a needy family in our district. It hosted a Martin Luther King Program. The club also provided tutorial services to students at several local county elementary schools. The goal is to incorporate civic involvement with our club members. This year the club also brought stories alive to elementary students, by reading and volunteering in area elementary schools. The key focus for 2005 was to donate books to local elementary schools on behalf of the students in the B.F. Reid Social Science Club.

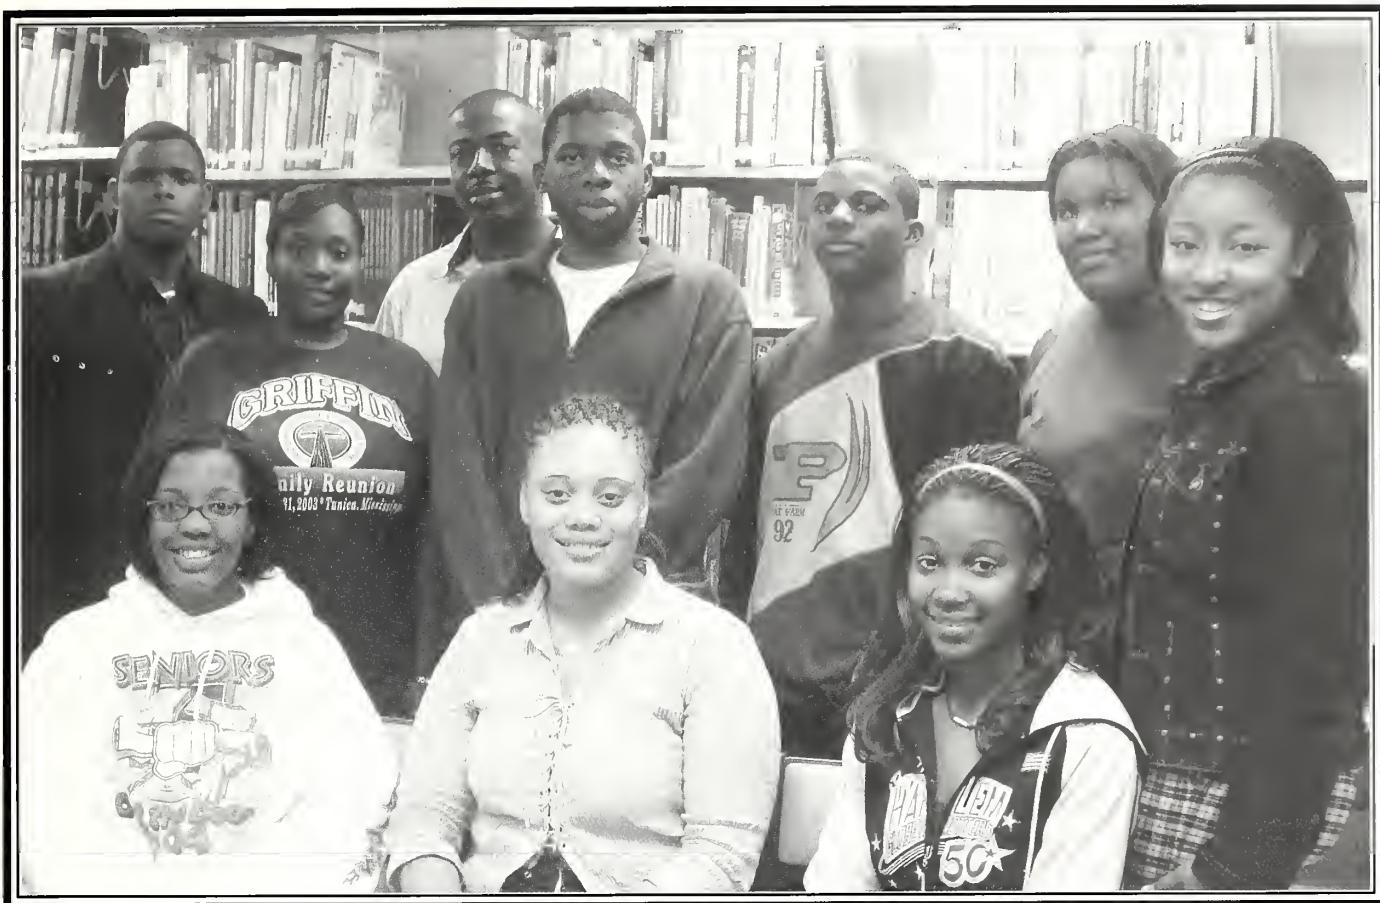

The sponsors of the club include Mrs. Elizabeth Melton, Mrs. Becky West, Mr. Carl Pitts, Mr. Kenneth Done, Mrs. Trina Cox, and Mrs. Karen Done.

The Hotel & Restaurant Management Technology program emphasizes training in management and supervision. Students earning an Associate's Degree have limitless opportunities in Hotel Operations, Restaurant Management and any related occupations with Hospitality, Travel and Tourism.

Many students who have enrolled in HRT already work in one of the aforementioned areas. They add lots of real-world scenarios to the lively classroom discussions. In turn, they take knowledge from the program and apply it to their work place - a win-win situation!

Students gain lots of practice through a variety of laboratory experiences - hotel front office simulation, food functions, seminars, housekeeping procedures as well as textbook presentations.

Another vital part of HRT is the student's organization - Delta Epsilon Chi/DECA, an association of post-secondary marketing students. Active since the program began in 1997, the CCC-HRT Chapter has had 100% membership, at least one State Officer, articles published in the bi-annual state newsletter, and every state meeting (Fall Conference, Collegiate Leadership Academy, State Conference/Competition) and International Conference/Competition has been attended. Numerous awards, recognition, and gold medallions have been bestowed upon chapter members. Also, the chapter is very active in community service projects, both locally as well as statewide. Past and present projects include: animal shelter donations, seat belt safety campaign, Diabetes Foundation of Mississippi, adopting a Christmas Family, New York fire truck donation, campus clean-up, anti-litter campaign, donations to Make-a-Wish Foundation, American Cancer Society, and MS DECA Foundation. In order to accomplish so many goals, the chapter participates in many fundraisers such as selling Otis Spunkmeyer cookies, bake sales, donations from food functions and seasonal promotions.

WOW!!!!

Two unique young ladies graced the library to observe the proper skills to use as a librarian. They were Phillise Perry, an eleventh grader at Clarksdale High School and Brittney Williams, an eight grader at Higgins Junior High School. The young ladies admitted they were a little frightened at first, but after being greeted by the smiling staff they felt right at home .

Bridney Skipper remembered the event a year ago.

Phillise and Brittney were told that the most important fact to remember is that the patrons come first and that is who is being served.

From my observation, I think Phillise and Brittney had an overwhelming experience. They received hands on experience with the card catalog, library databases, reference/circulation desk, tech processing, black collection, board conference room, media center and checking in/out patrons for computer use.

Author Freddi Williams Evans

Stressing the importance of figurative language in writing to Coahoma Community College early childhood students, author Freddi Williams Evans emphasized: "Show, don't tell" how characters relate to each other.

Her children's book, A Bus of Our Own, is an example of historical fiction, Evans said. In it her African-American characters and their action become interesting and exciting because their dialogue and actions are true to the book's pre-civil rights setting, she said. A Bus of Our Own tells the story of Jean who really wants to go to school even though walking the five miles is very difficult for her and other black children. She tries to find a way to get a bus for them same as the white children have.

school house?" Evans asked her audience in a discussion about book illustrations.

"No, not Dr. King, but Abraham Lincoln, because the book was in the 1940s and 50s," she said. Evans said excellent opportunities for cultural research are oral tributes at funerals. She also depends on older relatives to edit the language and attitudes of characters.

A native Mississippian who grew up among extended family members in Madison, Evans says her writings have grown out of a desire to share family stories as well as the "untold and" stories of other African Americans. She was invited to CCC as a special National Library Week speaker.

As accomplished pianist, she earned degrees in piano performance and psychology at Tougaloo College and earned master's degree in creative arts therapy at Hahnemann University in Philadelphia.

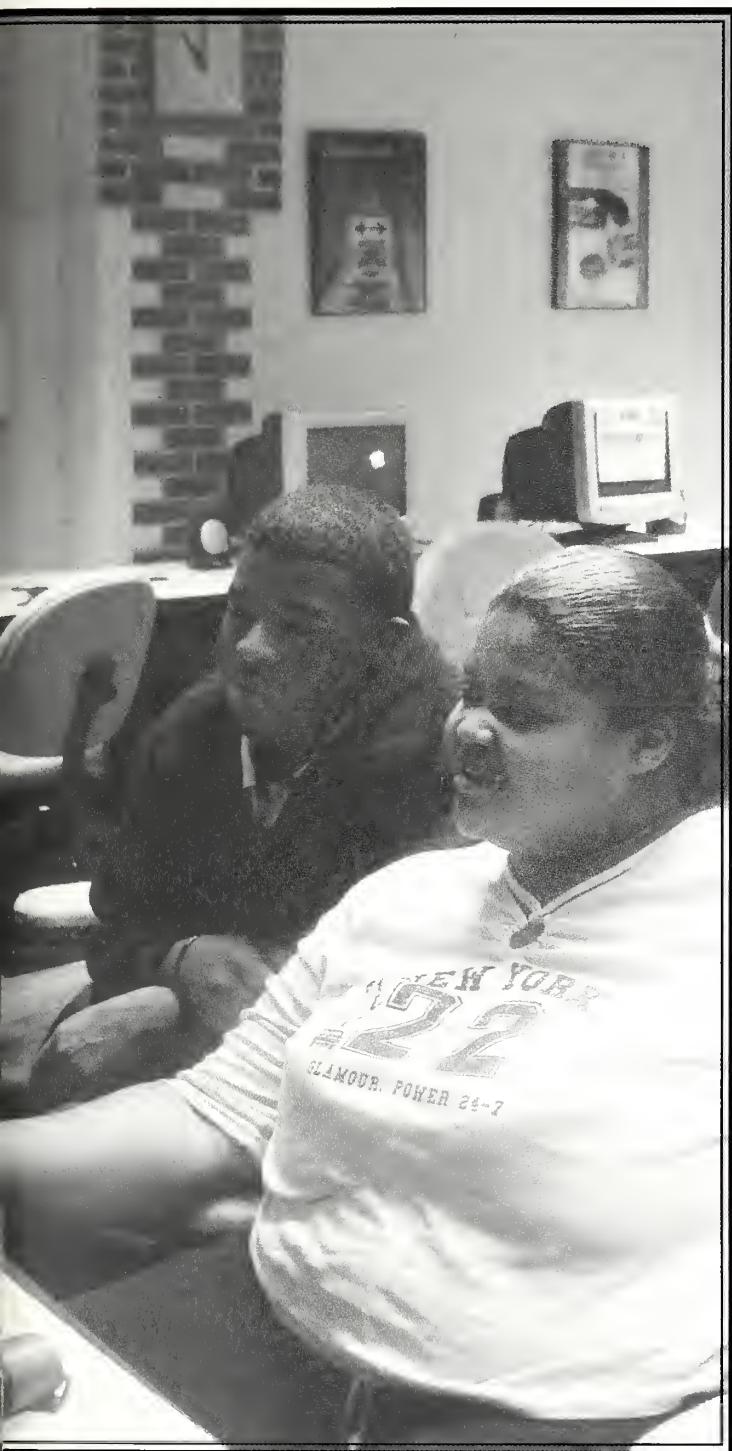

She lives in New Orleans where she became interested in historical landmark and cultural gathering-place call Congo Square. In that location she has produced a multi-disciplinary performance for children titled, "I Hear the Drums" featuring storytelling, drumming and African dance.

“Our Young Black Men are Dying and Nobody Seems to Care”

by
James Chapmyn

"My play is not a lesson or a lecture; it's entertainment," commented Chapmyn from his office in Columbus, Ohio. "We have problems we need to solve. These issues don't exist in a vacuum; they are part of the community," he said. Growing up as the son of a Baptist preacher in Kansas, Oklahoma, and Texas, Chapmyn says he left home, fell in with a bad crowd and reached a crossroads. What began as a suicide note, he says years later became his highly acclaimed 1991 off-Broadway play that he labels as an expression of love. "You don't hurt people you love," says Chapmyn who founded his theatre company in 1988. More than 500,000 at 1,000 area universities have viewed the company's performances. Pictured with the actors are Otis Stanford, Dean of Student Affairs, Dr. Vivian M. Presley, President, actor Ronald Jenkins, Catherine Williams, Evelyn Washington, Academic Counselor, and actor Jeffro.

Students urged to 'make it happen yourself'

by

Dr. Crystal Kuykendall

"Nothing good is going to happen unless you make it happen yourself," Crystal Kuykendall told Coahoma Community College students this week in a gospel-style address celebrating Black History Month. "Nod your head and let me know you hear and follow," directed the Chicago-born motivational speaker who has lectured on four continents. "You can say, 'amen,'-'right on' or 'you go, girl, too.'" Born on a kitchen table on the West Side of Chicago, Kuykendall said her disabled veteran father was a seventh grade dropout and she was described later as an "at risk, latchkey youth" from a "dysfunctional family." With the encouragement, however, of family and teachers who recognized her gift of gab, she graduated from high school at age 16 with traits of persistence, hope, attitude, affection, achievement, tolerance, and resilience and earned four college scholarships.

Praising early civil rights activists who staged sit-in demonstrations at Woolworths for 3812 days and served as role models for the Rev. Martin Luther King, she cited their persistence as a successful trait that made a difference in her life and others. "Persistence talks to me and helps overcome the fear of failure that keeps us from trying," she said. "Abraham Lincoln had 28 years of failure, and some of us give up on ourselves in 28 days," she said. "Can I get a head nod?" Reciting a litany of black inventors, Kuykendall said "Sometime things take time; you are here today because of the hope of your parents and your hope for something better. "Where there is no hope, we expect the worst and we see anger, frustration, and alienation, and we find rage," she said. Kuykendall urged students to become "Merchants of Hope," a phrase she has copy-righted. "Part of your responsibility is to reach back and pull someone else after you," she said. Quoting W.E.B. DuBois, she said "You are your brother's keeper, or you will be dragged down by his ruin." Kuykendall advised students to take chances and stop dividing themselves. "We are more alike than we are different.

Life is not about what you've got now but what you're going to get." "Find your talent; find your strength," she said. "Realize we were born of greatness; merchants of hope are inspired by others who open doors."

Kudos to Our Faculty

Before educators, officials, civic leaders, relatives and friends filling the Georgia Lewis Theatre Thursday, Glynda Duncan, Coahoma Community College English instructor, was honored as CCC's 2004 Humanities Teacher Award winner. Representing the Mississippi Humanities Council and presenting Duncan with the award was Dr. John Thornell, Delta State University provost and a MHC board member. Presiding at the event and praising Duncan's contributions to the college was Dr. Rosetta Howard, CCC academic dean. "I am very honored to receive this award and appreciate so many friends for being here today," said Duncan. Commenting on her life-long love of writing, Duncan talked about her interest in "Writing Across the Curriculum," a concept that was instrumental in her selection for the MHC award. She explained how writing serves multiple purposes in many disciplines and also creates career portfolios and reference works. Welcoming the audience was Latashia Young, president of the CCC English Clubs, Inc. English instructor Camille Walker explained the purpose of the presentation, and Vera Griffin, CCC English department chairman, introduced Duncan. Johnny McGlown, vice president of the CCC Board of Trustees, praised Duncan's contributions to the school. Duncan served as career experience director of public relations at CCC from 1987 through 2000, and has been an instructor of English composition, journalism, broadcasting, leadership development, oral communications, and reading since 1989. She has been faculty advisor for the campus newspaper since 1991, a freelance writer and photographer for newspapers and magazines since 1980. From 1983 through 1987 she served as news editor and feature editor of The Clarksdale Press Register, and has been a small business owner since 1988. Duncan was named the first woman sports editor for a daily newspaper, the Searcy Daily Citizen of Searcy, Ark., in 1978, a position she held through 1982. Earlier she was sports information director at the University of Arkansas Women's Intercollegiate Sports. She earned a Bachelor of Arts degree in broadcast journalism from the University of Arkansas, and a master's of English education from Delta State University. In 2002, she was honored with the Gov. William Winter Teacher Excellence Award, and secretary of the college Public Relations Association of Mississippi. As a teacher consultant she has conducted teacher workshops incorporating and adapting writing into all curriculums, and participated in a yearlong workshop of portfolios in the classroom. At CCC she has served on numerous committees, and has been active as an officer of the Business and Professional Women's Club. In 1992 she was named Clarksdale's Woman of Achievement and was first runner-up in the state Woman of Achievement competition. She is a member of the Clarksdale Noon Lions Club, a board member of Leadership Clarksdale, and a member of Friends of the Carnegie Public Library.

Yvonne M. Stanford

Working together will be Stanford's main theme. "I hope to work with the Industrial Foundation on ways to bring new industries here," she said. "The key thing is to get more citizens involved with what happens in the city." Stanford said she believes that one of the big problems is many of the same people in the community are the ones volunteering for all the events, and they deserve a break. "You can't complain unless you are working to help make things better," she said. Stanford also hopes to make people even more aware of what the chamber offers the community. "A lot of the positive things are happening and nobody knows about them," she said. "People don't know the countless hours the chamber puts in to help the community." Stanford has been serving on the Clarksdale-Coahoma County Chamber of Commerce for the last five years, and has served as both the treasurer and vice-president in this time. She said the lessons she learned from her father, who passed away in 1988, are still with her today. "My father always said, 'You have to do for other people if you are going to be happy,'" she said. "My father was the greatest ambassador to Clarksdale." He didn't make much trying to raise 10 kids, but he would help out those whenever he had a chance. Stanford's husband, Otis Stanford, is the dean of student affairs at Coahoma Community College. The couple has two children; Sean, a field service engineer, living in Houston, Texas; and Otis, a mechanical engineer for Boeing, living in Huntsville, Ala.

Coming to Coahoma Community College has been the best decision of my life. At the beginning of the school year, I never thought that I would become the Editor-in-Chief of this yearbook. This experience has taught me a lot about commitment, teamwork, and leadership. I realize that the member of this experience will last a lifetime. Many thanks go to the students and staff who cooperated with the making of this 2005 Coahoman yearbook. I feel that this will be the best yearbook for years to come.

To the upcoming Editor-in-Chief, train your staff well. Make sure each task is carried out in a timely manner. Put in overtime and love it. Seeing the finished product is wonderful. I can say, "Hard work pays off."

I am proud to be a sophomore here at Coahoma Community College. It has a warm and welcoming atmosphere. Without any hesitation, I would recommend Coahoma Community College to any student. I was very surprised when I was elected to be on the yearbook staff.

I consider it a great honor to be the assistant editor-in-chief/layout editor/photographer. When working on the yearbook staff, one must be patient, dedicated, humble and friendly. Working on the yearbook staff has been a wonderful and rewarding experience. Some of my duties while working on the yearbook staff were creating layouts on the computer, taking professional pictures, importing and editing the pictures to go on to the spreads. I never knew taking pictures was an enjoyable undertaking.

It also has encouraged me to be more dedicated and sacrificial in my everyday life. I would like to say to the yearbook staff and

Gone But Not Forgotten

Crossing the Bar

Alfred Tennyson, 1st Baron (1809-92)

SUNSET and evening star,
And one clear call for me!

And may there be no moaning of the bar,
When I put out to sea,

But such a tide as moving seems asleep,
Too full for sound and foam,
When that which drew from out the boundless deep
Turns again home.

Twilight and evening bell,
And after that the dark!

And may there be no sadness of farewell,
When I embark;

For tho' from out our bourne of Time and Place
The flood may bear me far,
I hope to see my Pilot face to face
When I have cross'd the bar.

NEWS

THE NATURE OF THE BEAST

We started the year watching Mother Nature repeatedly batter the US east coast with hurricanes. Then we watched as Martha Stewart weathered her court battle. And the climate in Iraq became hostile prior to the country's first democratic election. But all of that seemed trivial after the December 26 tsunamis in South Asia. Not only were they the biggest news event of the year, but they rank among the most devastating natural disasters in history.

FLORIDA HURRICANES ►

Schools along the east coast have a hard time getting started because of hurricanes Bonnie, Charley, Danielle, Earl, Frances, Ivan and Jeanne.

◀ ASIAN TSUNAMI

Earthquakes in the seabed of the Indian Ocean measuring 9.0 on the Richter scale trigger tsunamis all across South Asia. The tsunamis devastate villages and resorts in more than 10 countries, leaving over 280,000 people dead or missing.

WAR IN IRAQ ►

Major fighting continues in Iraq.

As US forces try to bring democracy to Iraq, insurgents carry out a series of attacks discouraging Iraqis to vote in the country's first democratic election.

SEARCH FOR ▶ "FORTUNES MADE..."

Google's co-founders Larry E. Page and Sergey Brin become billionaires overnight after their online search engine's stock goes public.

ELECTION

04

The 2004 Presidential Election had the potential to be as close and controversial as the 2000 race. Nearly 120 million Americans voted on Election Day, the highest turnout since 1968. Some citizens waited in line for as long as five hours to cast their vote (below). Many thought that the high voter turnout indicated a surge of support for Democratic candidate Sen. John Kerry (left), others speculated that the nation was rallying to re-elect President George W. Bush (above). And after the polls closed on November 2, 2004, many Americans went to sleep without knowing who their next President would be. Ohio was "too close to call," and held 20 electoral votes, enough to bring victory to either candidate. As the votes were counted, it became evident that Bush would carry Ohio with over 100,000 votes. Wanting to avoid a repeat of the 2000 election scandal, Sen. John Kerry called President Bush on the morning of November 3 to congratulate him on his victory.

FROM ANTI-HEROES TO SUPERHEROES

This year kept us rooting for the underdog at the theater. We pledged allegiance to Average Joe's in Dodgeball, we pined for Spongebob and Patrick to prevail over Plankton, and we campaigned with Napoleon to put Pedro in office as class president. The odds were stacked against Harry Potter, the Incredible Parr family, and the Permian Panthers as well. Be it a big-budget blockbuster or an inexpensive indie-flick, as long as there's a good story along the way, we'll see our heroes through thick and thin until the credits begin to roll.

DODGEBALL ▶

Ben Stiller strikes again, bringing the obscure sport of dodgeball to the silver screen in Dodgeball: A True Underdog Story.

◀ INCREDIBLE FAMILY

Mr. Incredible and the rest of the Parr family are called out of early retirement to save the world in The Incredibles.

FRIDAY FEVER ▶

In Friday Night Lights, football is shown to be more than just a game for the Permian High Panthers of Odessa, Texas

◀ FIRST DAUGHTER

Samantha MacKenzie just wants a normal college experience. But being the President's daughter makes her life anything but ordinary.

◀ DYNAMITE EXPLODES

After getting a lot of attention at independent film festivals, Napoleon Dynamite releases nationwide to sweet ticket sales. The high school anti-hero gets his friend Pedro elected as class president, and he's also pretty good with a bow staff.

◀ HARRY POTTER III ▶

Harry, Ron and Hermione return for their third year at Hogwarts, where the teens face a dangerous escaped prisoner and the equally foreboding Dementors.

◀ MOM, MEET MY OGRE ▶

In Shrek 2, Shrek faces his biggest challenge yet: The in-laws. The newlyweds return from their honeymoon to find an invitation to meet Princess Fiona's parents in the Kingdom of Far, Far Away.

◀ I, ROBOT

Will Smith keeps overactive robots in check in this futuristic sci-fi flick that asks the question "What if humans become too dependant on robots?"

◀ BIGGER. BETTER. MORE ABSORBENT. ▶

Moving to the big screen means more responsibilities for SpongeBob and Patrick in The SpongeBob SquarePants Movie. They have to rescue King Neptune's crown aaaaand foil Plankton's plan to steal the Krabby Patty recipe!

IT'S HOW YOU PLAY THE GAME

Every year, athletes set out to break records set in years past. This year was no different, but brought added drama. Would the mighty BoSox break the Curse of the Bambino?

Would Lance win six in a row? Would the Patriots win again? These questions weren't answered without a little bit of nail-biting.

Hockey and basketball fans followed Court TV more closely than ESPN this year, hoping to see an end to the NHL lockout or hear the latest on the charges pressed against NBA players after the Staples Center brawl that occurred in November. How's THAT for drama!?

► SUPER BOWL XXXIX

For the third time in four years, the New England Patriots win the Super Bowl by three points, this time against the Philadelphia Eagles.

► HIT RECORDS

Ichiro Suzuki of the Seattle Mariners racks up a record 262 hits in a single season.

► IT'S GOTTA BE THE SOX!

The Boston Red Sox stage a dramatic 0-3 comeback against the New York Yankees in the American League Championship Series. They go on to sweep the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 in the World Series, breaking the 86-year-old "Curse of the Bambino" and bringing a collective sigh of relief to Red Sox fans everywhere.

GIRL ▶ POWER

During the 2004 X-Games, Lyn-Z Adams Hawkins wins the first women's vert ramp gold.

◀ BASKET BRAWL

Indiana Pacers player Ron Artest faces a misdemeanor charge in the brawl between fans and players during a game against the Detroit Pistons.

◀ FREDDY'S FOOTWORK

CYCLING'S SIX-SHOOTER ▶

Cyclist Lance Armstrong puts his US Post Office-sponsored team in the record books by winning the Tour de France an unprecedented six consecutive times.

OLYMPICS

04

In 2004 the Olympic Games returned to Greece, their birthplace. A total of 10,500 athletes from 202 countries competed, a record turnout despite speculation of terrorism and anti-Americanism. The United States took home more medals than any other country -103, 35 of them gold.

Mia Hamm (above), one of the most famous U.S. soccer stars, announced her retirement and blew a good-bye kiss to the crowd after her team secured a gold medal. "There are only a few times in your life when you get to write the final chapter the way you want," said Hamm about the USA's gold medal.

Justin Gatlin, Bernard Williams and Shawn Crawford (above, L-R) of the U.S. swept the men's 200-meter final, after their introduction generated boos and heckling from the crowd in Olympic Stadium. The fans were upset that the Grecian sprinter Kostas Kenteris wasn't allowed to compete due to drug charges.

MUSIC

ARTISTS ARE VARIOUS AND NEFARIOUS

Musicians often stay in the spotlight by breaking out of their mold and trying new things. This year, Sean "Puffy" Combs took the lead role in a Broadway play, Gwen Stefani took a break from No Doubt to release a solo album, and Green Day brought us their first concept album. But Ashlee Simpson's unexpected antics garnered the most attention: She was busted lip-synching on Saturday Night Live, and was later booed after her performance at the FedEx Orange Bowl.

▼ THE GREEN PARTY

Green Day releases their album American Idiot, showing a more mature, politically-minded side than we've seen in the past.

RAISIN' ▲ THE ROOF

Sean Combs took off his VOTE OR DIE t-shirt to play the role of Walter Lee Younger in the Broadway production of A Raisin In The Sun.

▲ USHER SWEEPS UP
R&B artist Usher wins big at the American Music Awards, MTV MVA's and Grammys.

TV

PLENTY OF REASONS TO STAY HOME

While there were still a slew of "Survivor-esque" reality shows on the tube this year, we also saw more and more renovation-driven reality programs as Americans took an interest in redecorating their homes or "pimping their rides." But there was also evidence that Hollywood hadn't written off its writers completely. Well-penned dramas like CSI: NY and Lost gave us a great escape from reality, while Comedy Central's The Daily Show gave the nightly news a slant that caused us to laugh out loud.

"YOU'RE FIRED" ▶

In The Apprentice, competition and boardroom drama escalate until one winner is given a dream job with The Trump Organization and a six-figure salary.

▼ BIKERS THAT BICKER

Reality renovation show American Chopper is a favorite among those who enjoy watching mechanics practice their craft, and those who enjoy seeing father and son argue while they work.

◀ THE OUTLAW JESSE JAMES

Sparks fly as teams race to build hot rods and race cars in Monster Garage, hosted by Jesse James.

WATCHING THE ▶ DETECTIVES

This year CSI took their high-tech forensic investigations to the city that never sleeps in CSI: New York.

WHERE ARE WE? ▶

Lost follows 48 castaways who try to survive on a deserted island. Luckily, none of them are named Gilligan.

◀ DAILY DOSE
Comedy Central's The Daily Show with John Stewart is America's most trusted name in fake news.

THE TY ▶ THAT BINDS

Ty Pennington, host of Extreme Makeover - Home Edition, brings people together with completely renovated homes for deserving families.

WHO NEEDS ▶ A TRAVEL AGENT?

Grab your best friend, sister, significant other or grandma; whoever you think would be the best teammate in The Amazing Race, an elimination-style race around the world for a million-dollar cash prize.

◀ JOEY
Joey Tribbiani trades "Friends" for family when he leaves Central Perk behind and heads for Hollywood, where he takes his nephew under his wing.

TRENDS

IT'S NOT SO BAD BEIN' TRENDY

Call it hip, popular or even conformist - this year's trends were more philanthropic than in years past. A little yellow bracelet raised big money for cancer research. A healthy diet has become so popular that fast-food restaurants are doing away with their "super-sized" menu items. And Ford unveiled the first Earth-friendly hybrid SUV to the delight of tree-hugging soccer moms everywhere.

EASY TO SEE, HARD TO FIND ▶

The first five million of these Lance Armstrong Foundation bracelets sell out quickly and start a trend that raises over $20 million in the fight against cancer.

◀ HOODIES OFF THE HOOK

Hoodies are a cozy alternative to wearing a jacket, and they can sport your favorite band, team, or even website!

◀ FAITHFUL READERS

NCV breaks the Bible down into easy-to-read magazine form. Revolve is for girls, Refuel is for boys.

► GAMES THAT ROCK ▶

More and more bands are lending their music to video games. Tony Hawk's Underground wins the first MTV Video Music Award for Video Game Soundtrack.

► LOW-CARB ▶

To attract low-carb dieters, fast-food restaurants start offering tortilla-wrapped menu items.

► LITTLE BOW WOW ▶

Paris Hilton, Britney Spears, Milla Jovovich and P. Diddy have been trailblazers in the trend of teeny-tiny pocket-dogs.

► MOTHER EARTH'S SUV ▶

Ford introduces the first hybrid SUV. Using electric power as well as gas, the Escape Hybrid is more fuel-efficient and more environmentally friendly.

► IT REALLY HAULS ▶

The Dodge Magnum makes grocery-getters cool again. With a 340-horsepower 5.7-liter Hemi V-8, this station wagon hauls a lot more than just cargo!

TECH GEAR

GIZMOS, GADGETS AND GREAT GEAR!

Who says you can't take it with you? This year saw portables get even more popular. Sony and Nintendo each released new handheld game platforms, while Tapwave released the Palm-powered Zodiac for more organized gamers. People who take their music with them had a plethora of MP3 players to pick from, and Apple released the Mac mini, a desktop computer that challenges that whole "bigger is better" philosophy. But with all these gadgets, a bigger backpack would be nice.

GIZMO TO GO ▶

Road trips with the family are much more bearable with commerical-free satellite radio.

► SIGN OF GREATNESS

The Zodiac from Tapwave combines a Palm-powered organizer with a beefy video game platform.

◀ DOES HE DO HOMEWORK?

Sony's new portable MP3 player is released in Japan. The VAIO Pocket is equipped with a 20 GB hard-drive, can record 13,000 songs, and touts 20 hours of battery life! iPods everywhere tremble with fear.

PLAYSTATION ▶ PORTABLE

Sony creates a huge buzz by taking their first step in portable video games. The PlayStation Portable is released just in time to be a sweet graduation gift.

MOTOROLA MPX ▶

◀ MAC MINI

Apple unveils the Mac mini, a powerful computer that promises to take up about as much space as that stack of CD's on your desk.
